

THE MEDICINE SHE NEEDED — Mrs. Elwood Dwinell, of Pasco, Wash., German war bride smiles with happiness as she is reunited with her son by a former marriage, Uwe Mahlfeld. Doctors declared that she was wasting away from the affects of an illness, which had been aggravated by longing for her son. Neighbors raised funds that paid for the 7000-mile flight which brought her son to her, from Germany.

Companion of Fisher Gives Her Version of Shooting Here

Lettie Hughes, companion of Earl Fisher, 38, who was fatally wounded Saturday night by his former father-in-law, John L. Hays, 70, at the Hays home, 801 East 11th, gave her version of the shooting to the Democrat-Capital Monday afternoon.

Fisher was the son of Mrs. Rachael Fisher, 314 North Randolph, and Joseph Fisher, of route 2, Sedalia, and not the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank F. Fisher, 317 East Saline, as was first stated.

Hays, who was taken into custody today Saturday night by Chief of Police Edgar Neighbors and Sheriff John F. Taylor was released Sunday on orders of Harold Bamberg, acting prosecuting attorney. No charges have been filed against Hays, who insisted he shot Fisher in self defense.

Hays had insisted that his former son-in-law had made numerous threats of "getting the Hays family and burning their home."

Miss Hughes was taken to police headquarters Saturday night and there she gave a statement to the officers, but she came to the Democrat-Capital office Monday and asked that she be permitted to tell her side of the story.

"When we first arrived at the Hays home, we stopped on the west side of the house. Mr. Hays

Bloodstained Pipe May Lead to Man Who Killed Four

CHESTER, Calif. (AP) — Authorities today hoped a bloodstained lead pipe and a brutally beaten little girl would help them find the robber who beat a grocer and three other children to death near here Friday.

"I'm banking a lot on what the child will tell us," Sheriff M. H. Scholer said. "She's a bright little girl, way beyond her years."

Grocer Gard Young had taken the four children to Westwood on his weekly trip to withdraw money from the bank for Saturday's big check cashing business.

Some $7,100 Young withdrew is missing. Police said the slayer must have known of this routine and felt it necessary to bludgeon the children because they presumably recognized him.

Sondra was placed under guard at the hospital, officers said, on the theory the killer might try to remove her as a witness.

Three Arkansas men were detained for questioning yesterday at Albuquerque, N. M., because their eastbound car roughly resembled a blue Buick reported seen trailing Young's Friday. But New Mexico State Police Capt. Archie White said their story of having been in Las Vegas, Nev., gambling last week checked out and they probably would be freed today.

Thought for Today

It never frightened a Puritan when you bade him stand still and listen to the speech of God. His closet and his church were full of reverberations of the awful, gracious, beautiful voice for which he listened. —Phillips Brooks.

Allow A-Spies To Die

Supreme Court Denies Rosenbergs A New Hearing; Lets Death Sentence Hold

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court today denied a hearing to atom spies Julius and Ethel Rosenberg, the husband and wife sentenced to die for giving American A-bomb secrets to Russia.

The denial lets stand unchanged the conviction and death sentence of the New York City couple — and puts them another step closer to execution in the electric chair in New York's Sing Sing prison.

Only a commutation of their sentence by the President can now save them.

The high court's rejection of the couple's appeal was announced in a brief order, which noted that Justice Black favored a hearing.

The court's vote was 8-1. The high tribunal at the same time and by the same vote denied a hearing to Morton Sobell, a radar expert convicted with the Rosenbergs. He escaped the death penalty, but got a maximum sentence of 30 years in prison.

Mrs. Rosenberg's brother, David Greenglass, testified for the government and helped send his sister and brother-in-law to the death house. Greenglass got a 15-year sentence for his confessed part in the spy plot. No appeal was filed in his case.

The death sentence given the Rosenbergs has been described as the first ever imposed in peacetime by a civilian court in this country for espionage.

Judge Irving R. Kaufman in passing sentence in the U. S. district court in New York City told the Rosenbergs their crime was worse than murder. He said:

"I believe that your conduct in putting into the hands of the Russian the A-bomb before our best scientists predicted Russia would perfect the bomb has already caused the Communist aggression in Korea, with resultant casualties exceeding 50,000 Americans. And who knows but what millions more of innocent people may pay the price of your treason."

Kaufman condemned the pair on April 5, 1951. The U. S. circuit court in New York upheld the death sentence — and the Sobell death sentence — in a decision announced Feb. 25, 1952.

The appeals among other things questioned constitutionality of sections of the federal espionage law, contended the conduct of the judge precluded a fair trial, and called the death sentence "cruel and unusual punishment."

Chinese Red Colonel Gives Up to Koreans

PUSAN, Korea (AP) — A Chinese Communist colonel surrendered to a South Korean Army patrol last week, the newspaper Kyungyang Shinmoon said today.

The paper quoted the officer, a Colonel Chang, commander of a Red artillery regiment, as saying he feared for his life in an expected purge of former Chinese Nationalist officers.

If the purge is correct, Chang's ranking defections from the Red cause since the Korean War started 27 months ago.

The report said Chang surrendered on the Eastern Front last Monday after a savage hill battle in which 700 Reds were killed.

A photograph published by the paper showed the officer to be a husky middle-aged man.

Chang was quoted as saying he left Peiping Aug. 26 and arrived at the front after a 12 day march.

He said he reached the advanced position at which he surrendered by explaining he was going forward to make a survey for artillery fire.

The paper said Chang described himself as still a member of the Nationalist party. He said he had been mistreated by the Red army.

Fireman Killed, 3 Others Hurt In Traffic Mishap

ST. LOUIS (AP) — A volunteer fireman was killed and three others hurt in a traffic accident near East St. Louis, Ill., as they answered a call to fight a weed fire, one of about 50 such blazes in the St. Louis area yesterday.

Dead was Frank Robinson, 29, of French Village, Ill., an East St. Louis suburb. The injured were Frank Johnson, 27, Albert Kress, 28, and Fire Chief Edward Rathens, 52, all of French Village.

The fire truck and an automobile collided at an intersection of U. S. Highway 50, throwing the truck out of control and into an empty cattle truck.

Sparks from a rubbish fire in the rear of a suburban University City, Mo., home were blown by strong winds into a nearby shrub and plant nursery, burning over 10 of the firm's 20 acres before firemen from three St. Louis County communities brought the blaze under control.

Firemen in St. Louis answered 42 alarms during the day, most of them rubbish fires which got out of control.

Carlene Wilken to Kansas City for Royal Queen Contest

Tuesday is the big day in the life of Carlene Wilken, 19, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. K. Wilken, route 1, for Carlene is going up to Kansas City where she will be one of the many candidates in the contest for the American Royal Queen of 1952.

She will drive up to Kansas City with her chaperon, Mrs. Ike L. Warren and will be wearing a suit of medium gray shade with gold blouse and gold sleeves. Her hat is black tam shaped and her shoes black suede.

The entertainment will open with a luncheon Tuesday at 12:30 p. m., and will be a round of fun with dinners, luncheons and parties. For the various occasions Carlene takes quite a wardrobe: a royal blue knit dress, a brown tweed sports dress, a checkered rayon dress with black velvet trim, a navy wool tailored dress and an attractive black velvet suit dress.

For the coronation ball, says Carlene, she will have a gown with black taffeta bodice and full skirt over taffeta — but —

If she gets to be queen or one of the attendants, Carlene will stay all next week, too, but if she doesn't she will be back home next Sunday. Regardless of which it is — although she would like to stay another week — at least while she is there it is going to be a gala time that she will long remember.

Carlene is employed in the office at Rosenthals and Mrs. Warren is in the Sedalia Chamber of Commerce office. The contest in Sedalia was sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

GOP Fighting For Ordinary Methods Use

Ike Says Party Wants Business Like Administration

ABOARD THE EISENHOWER SPECIAL (AP) — Dwight D. Eisenhower declared today the Republicans are fighting to get "just some ordinary business methods" installed in government in Washington.

Speaking to a chilled crowd at the Casper, Wyo., airport, the Republican presidential candidate hit federal agencies "sticking their hands" into the management of western land resources.

"There are 59 different and separate government bureaus which had a hand in the pie of western resources," Eisenhower said. He added there must be greater efficiency in handling the people's business.

It was a clear, crisp morning at Casper where the general made his first stop in resuming his campaign trip which was interrupted by a two-day rest at Denver.

The general said control of western lands is in the hands of overlapping agencies in Washington. "They're so mixed up down there, they don't know what they're doing," Eisenhower said.

Again he blasted at what he called "the whole hog theory" of government, which he said, was trying to run things from Washington rather than working for cooperation with the people.

Eisenhower added that western development can never go forward as it should until there is greater responsibility in its direction at the local level.

He insisted that efficiency in government is related directly to the fight for world peace, that without such efficiency there could not be the strength needed for world leadership.

"What kind of government can you afford to have in Washington?" Eisenhower asked. "I'm convinced that you can afford only the best."

The GOP nominee, drawing upon his experience in Europe, pointed to what he termed the confusion of American agencies overseas. There were times, he said, when he knew whether government agency was doing in Europe.

"The relationship between an effective government in Washington and our hope of promoting peace in the world," he said, "is the most serious thought I want to leave with you."

He called for a government "confident of its own moral rectitude" as a prerequisite of that. He said it must be a government backed by military strength.

"If we are strong, honest and straightforward in our dealings," Eisenhower said, "we will have that prestige abroad."

He declared that without his position in the eyes of Western European nations, American leadership is in peril.

Eisenhower is heading into the home stretch drive for the Presidency by pointing his final appeals toward the Democratic southland and vote-rich industrial East.

With only three weeks to go before election, the GOP candidate took on a whirlwind schedule crisscrossed with speeches and huddles on which his command based their hopes for victory Nov. 4.

Sunday, Eisenhower held an unannounced conference with Herbert Brownell, who was campaign manager for Gov. Thomas E. Dewey in the 1944-48 presidential fights. He also helped engineer the Eisenhower nomination in Chicago at the GOP National Convention.

Officers Serve GIs Breakfast In Bed

TRIESTE (AP) — Into the enlisted men's barracks of the U. S. armed forces in Trieste these mornings there tip-toes an officer. He draws back the blinds, gently awakes the soldiers — and serves them breakfast in bed.

And that's more — the soldiers get to pick which officer has to do it.

It's part of the Army's charities fund drive here. Every enlisted man who contributed $10 gets breakfast in bed for a week.

Money is pouring in.

General Praises Truman

Smith, Who Spoke Of Reds In Federal Government, Gives Full Explanation

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Gen. Walter Bedell Smith, head of the Central Intelligence Agency, said today if the next President, whether Democratic or Republican, "does as well as President Truman" in fighting Communism in the federal government the American people "have little to worry about."

The general made the statement as a witness before an open hearing of the House Un-American Activities Committee which had subpoenaed him to explain testimony he gave on Sept. 29 at the McCarthy-Benton slander and libel hearing that he believed Communists "are so adroit and adept that they have infiltrated every security agency of the government."

Smith said today that his statement was "predicated on pure theory and past performance." He added under cross-examination by committee counsel:

"I would be extremely complacent if I believed that there was no Communist infiltration in the government."

Rep. Francis E. Walter (D-Pa.) asked the general flatly:

"Do you know positively that there are Communists in your organization (the CIA)?"

"I am morally certain that there are Communists in the Central Intelligence Agency," Smith replied.

Walter asked: "Do you know who they are?"

Smith replied: "No."

Walter, Committee Chairman John S. Wood (D-Ga.) and Rep. Harold Velde (R-Ill.) aided by Counsel Frank S. Tavenner, Jr., questioned Smith repeatedly on his Sept. 29 statement.

Walter said "such a statement is disturbing to the entire country."

"One of the reasons I came here today was to alleviate that disturbance," Smith replied.

But Walter and Wood asserted that Smith should state flatly whether he "was certain" there were Communist infiltration in every government security agency.

The general, however, said that he could not make such a statement, that the work of the CIA was devoted entirely to operations outside of the United States. But he did say this:

"I have found no penetration of Communists in my organization in the United States. No American Communists and none within the scope or interests of this committee."

"I believe that there are Communists in my organization outside of the United States because in the past we have from time to time discovered one or two in our ranks."

Smith noted that this is a presidential election year and said that every statement made by an officer of the administration "is going to be seized upon and quoted out of context."

He added:

"I have no political leanings or affiliations. Any future president, Republican or Democrat, is going to have to work with the same security agencies now in existence. Both will have the same difficulties that we now encounter today. If either one of them, the Democrat or the Republican, does as well as President Truman in cooperation with the security agencies in ferreting out subversives, the American people can congratulate each other and will have little to worry about."

Walter asked Smith whether in making his statement about the Communists in the federal security agencies he had any first-hand knowledge or facts.

"My responsibilities are all aboard," Smith answered. "My knowledge concerns only activities abroad. Remember when I talk I refer only to those activities with which I am familiar."

"I must assume," he continued, "from my past experience, that there has been infiltration of security organizations."

Walter asked: "Then you assume and presume only that there is an infiltration? You have no facts?"

"If I knew where there was a Communist I would do something about it," Smith replied.

"Does that allay our disturbance, congressman?" he asked Walter.

The latter bluntly said: "No, because the position you hold places you in that situation where any statement you may make makes it appear it is based on fact, and fact alone."

Sister Tarcilla Hurt In a Fall

Sister Tarcilla, O. S. B., a teacher at the Sacred Catholic School, suffered severe and painful injuries last Saturday when she slipped and fell at the sisters' home at the church.

She suffered a fracture of the shoulder and the upper part of her arm.

Sister Tarcilla was brought to the Woodland Hospital and later taken to St. Margaret's Hospital in Kansas City, Kan., in the McLaughlin ambulance.

She had been visiting with other sisters from the Sacred Heart Parish in Sedalia, and as they started to depart, Sister Tarcilla turned and slipped on the freshly waxed floor.

NEW POLIO WEAPON—Dr. Herold R. Cox, above, has announced the discovery of a new, relatively simple method of producing a vaccine which could be "the greatest single technical advance in whipping polio."

Cox, chief of virus research for Lederle Laboratories, made the announcement at the opening ceremonies of the University of California's Biochemistry Building, at Berkeley, Calif. He said the vaccine, which is still undergoing laboratory tests, could be in expensively mass-produced.

Tire Blow-out Causes Wreck On Hiway 65

Car Swerves, Hits Parked Vehicle Near Flat Creek Bridge

A blow-out of a front tire and applying the brakes to the car caused a serious accident on Highway 65, just north of the Flat Creek bridge, about 12 noon Sunday. Two persons were painfully injured, and two automobiles badly wrecked.

The right front tire on a 1948 Buick sedan, being driven north on the highway by Marion Teer, 48, of Camdenton, blew out as the car passed over the bridge. Teer reported he applied the brakes and the car went to the right and crashed into the rear of a 1952 Chevrolet sedan parked on the east shoulder.

The Chevrolet was knocked down a 20 foot embankment and went crashing head-on into a hedge tree, smashing in the left front part of the car, fender, rear part of the car, fender, bumper and the trunk lid, were smashed in when the Buick hit.

Andy Jesse Looney, 15, Camdenton, riding with Teer, was thrown into the windshield of the Buick, causing a laceration on the right eyebrow, laceration on the right cheek just below the eye, and several lesser cuts and bruises.

They were taken to the Bothwell Hospital in the Evening Star ambulance and Dr. A. L. Love rendered medical treatment.

The Chevrolet automobile belongs to V. M. Barker, Independence, who had parked the car while he went down the highway bridge to do some fishing.

Barker said he heard the explosion sound from the blowout, and then heard the crash. He said he didn't know it was his car until he had come out from under the bridge to see his car against the tree.

A Sedalia police patrol car went to the scene when the officer near Windsor investigating the other wreck. They handled the heavy traffic until the wreckage was cleared from the highway.

Sgt. J. E. McHatten, Camp Walters, Tex., came upon the scene and gave first aid to the Looney youth. He assisted in directing traffic until police arrived. McHatten is visiting his wife and family at Windsor.

Moulder Speaks Twice In Pettis In Next 2 Days

Congressman Morgan M. Moulder, Camdenton, will be the principal speaker at two meetings in Pettis County. Tonight he speaks at Houstonia, and on Tuesday night at Green Ridge.

The meetings begin at 8 p. m. Congressman Moulder is seeking re-election from the new 11th Congressional district, of which Pettis County was made a part in the recent redistricting of Missouri. He has served in the House of Representatives for two terms.

At present he is a member of the un-American activities committee and, if elected, will be the senior member on this committee, which would make him the chairman, in accordance to seniority.

During the meetings at Houstonia and Green Ridge the Democrat county candidates for various offices this year will be introduced.

Three Die of Polio

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Three children, aged 10, 11, and 14, died in the Greater Kansas City area yesterday of infantile paralysis.

Koreans Withstand Assault

Fanatic Chinese Mowed Down Today In Frenzied Raid Against Mountain

SEOUL, Korea, (AP) — Frenzied Chinese suicide troops with demolition charges tried to blow a hole in the Allied defenses on White Horse Mountain tonight. South Korean gunfire mowed them down short of their target.

A front line Allied officer said about half a dozen fanatical Reds with satchel charges and Bangalore torpedoes charged up the north slope in complete disregard of their own lives.

They fell with their charges unexploded.

Satchel charges are bundles of explosives packed in a satchel-like bundle. Some are covered with a sticky substance so they can be stuck to the target. Bangalore torpedoes are lengths of pipe packed with explosives.

At the same time two Chinese platoons jumped off in a futile attack. The South Koreans drove them back, then launched an assault of their own. At last report they were pushing up the slope of one of three knobs the Reds captured earlier in the day.

As the savage battle for White Horse entered its eighty day South Koreans were in firm control of the commanding crest.

The "stay fight" troops of the Republic of Korea 9th Division prepared bunkers and threw up entrenchments in confident anticipation of renewed Chinese assaults. A front-line officer said ROK positions were in better shape than they had been since the big battle started almost a week ago.

Gen. James A. Van Fleet, commander of the U. S. Eighth Army, predicted the savage fighting for the vital high ground commanding the sprawling Chonwon Valley may taper off.

Van Fleet told AP correspondent Milo Farnetti the Chonwon area has been a sensitive part of the front "but I don't think it will be any longer."

South Koreans estimate the Reds have lost more than 10,000 killed or wounded. Elements of three Chinese divisions have been used in the bitter struggle.

Van Fleet praised the South Korean troops and said they had done "a beautiful job" against "about the best" Chinese army on the front.

And he lauded Maj. Gen. Kim Chong Cho for "as fine a job as any divisional commander I have ever seen." Van Fleet made his comments at a divisional command and outpost while touring the Western Front.

The fighting on and around White Horse was still the main action along the 155-mile battle front.

To the east, a smaller but still bitter fight raged over possession of an outpost position. Chinese took the position in savage hand-to-hand battle last night. U. N. details were sketchy and conflicting but indicated the fighting was still going on at mid-day.

Only small clashes were reported elsewhere.

The Chinese White Horse braved the withering fire of an Allied artillery barrage in regaining part of the ground they lost earlier to the bayonets and hand grenades of the South Koreans.

They launched three company-sized attacks about 3 p. m. and won the three knobs in 30 minutes of fighting. The South Koreans withdrew and set up a defense line about 300 yards down the north slope from the crest. Fighting broke off about 4 p. m.

Earlier in the day the South Koreans held grimly to the crest despite seven savage attacks by the frantic Chinese. Then they bared their bayonets and drove the Reds back to one last fingerhold on the shell-scarred northern slope.

Allied warplanes, tanks and artillery poured a shattering rain of high explosives on Chinese positions around White Horse.

Chinese bodies, covered with frost, littered the slopes this morning. The Koreans counted 510 dead.

Van Fleet Calls Chinese Troops Among Their Best

WESTERN FRONT, Korea (AP) — Gen. James A. Van Fleet today declared the South Korean soldiers holding White Horse Mountain are fighting troops from "about the best" Chinese army on the Korean front.

"Later today Van Fleet told a news conference the 38th oldline Communist army had been ordered to take White Horse "at all costs."

The U. S. Eighth Army commander said the Republic of Korea Ninth Division, holding the vital peak northwest of Chonwon had done "a beautiful job."

The Chonwon area has been a sensitive part of the front. Van Fleet said, "but I don't think it will be any longer."

"The 38th (Chinese Communist) Army is about their best," Van Fleet said in a brief interview at a western front division command post. "It has been the most intense hill battle in about a year. They have done a beautiful job."

Van Fleet said the ROK battle was a "classic" and would be "a good lesson for the whole army."

Minister, His Wife And Son Have Polio

MILTON, W. Va. (AP) — Polio has hit hard at the family of a young Presbyterian minister.

The Rev. Meade F. Degges, 26, his wife and their 22-month-old son all became victims of the disease within a few days. The baby, Francis, was rushed here from his home in Greenville a week ago yesterday. Last Friday, Mrs. Elizabeth Degges, 28, came down with the disease.

And on Saturday pastor Degges was taken to Morris Memorial Hospital here with the worst form, bulbospinal polio.

He was put in an iron lung and a doctor listed his condition as critical. Mrs. Degges and the baby were reported in good condition and improving.

No strongly radioactive chatter has been found in meteorites.

AT POP COLLINS' CABIN, a favorite picnic spot of students at Stephens College in Columbia, Mo., are two residents of Sedalia who are enrolled there. The two young women were photographed during the recent Missouri Club picnic held at the cabin which is located near the Stephens Lake. Standing is Miss Gertrude Green, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. O. Green Jr., route 5, while Miss Patty Sue Callis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Gordon Callis, also of route 5, is seated before the fireplace. The Missouri Club is one of 40 active group organizations at Stephens which include students from each of the 48 states. Both Miss Callis and Miss Green were among 2700 persons who attended the annual all-school barbecue held this past week, also at the lakeside. At that time, the new students, including Miss Callis, were permitted to burn their green ribbons in a gigantic bonfire. A program of music and skits highlighted the evening.

Family Responsibility Urged In Cases of Public Assistance

JEFFERSON CITY — The principle of family and individual responsibility in the field of public assistance was given strong endorsement by the social legislation committee of the Missouri State Chamber of Commerce at a meeting here today, with a recommendation for legislation incorporating that principle in the welfare laws of the state.

The group supports the principle as one "consistent with our American heritage where each person provides for himself to the limits of his own abilities and desires, and where each person is willing to assist those who are unable but not unwilling to help themselves."

The committee also endorsed several proposals to revise the state unemployment compensation law in the following respects:

(1) Requiring in the case of "voluntary quits" to take a more remunerative job that the employee remain on the new job at least 27 weeks, requiring that such work be "substantially" more remunerative, and that the work be such that the claimant is qualified by experience or training to perform.

(2) Providing for disqualification in cases of physical inability and pregnancy and payment of benefits after such disqualification only upon medical certification of physical ability to work.

(3) Providing for disqualification in cases of suspension as well as discharge for misconduct.

(4) That notice be given all base period employees upon renewal of claims for benefits.

(5) Requiring that where the base period employer requests it that wage information be available to him at the deputy level.

(6) Providing for a system of request wage reporting and charging of the last employer's account by elimination of the present "lag quarter," thus basing benefits on the claimant's most recent em-

More on Move In US Than Ever Before

NEW YORK (AP) — More Americans than ever are on the move. Some 36 million will cart their possessions from one city to another this year.

This will be 20 per cent more than the record breaking number of migrants last year, according to members of the Movers Conference of America.

And another observer of the trend—the National Industrial Conference Board—comes up today with some reasons for it.

Part of this shifting about will be due to the natural restlessness of Americans. But a large part will be due to the record-breaking expansion of industry, which is building new plants and expanding old ones, and in many cases spreading them widely across the land.

The movers conference notes that most of the people its members' vans tote are bound for the South, the Southwest or the West.

It sees the defense expansion program as a principal cause but also notes that since the war there has been a decentralization trend in industry. Higher freight rates have led companies to put branches closer to their customers or source of supplies, the conference believes.

In a study on trends in plant location, the National Industrial Conference board queried 138 companies, which together operate 1,146 separate plants.

In the period 1946-51 they made 614 additions to their capacity, or an average of four expansion projects per company in six years. Before the war 60 per cent of their plants were east of the Mississippi and north of the Mason-Dixon line.

During the war new plants were built in the South and West. Since the war the pattern of industrial growth has changed again somewhat.

"The West is still growing more rapidly than any other portion of the country," the conference reports. "And the New England-Middle Atlantic area is still losing out."

"While the South appears to have dropped in national importance, as far as new or acquired facilities are concerned, the North Central states have increased their rates of growth appreciably. And the trend toward the smaller towns, which was established during the war, has levelled off."

How to have a winning TELEPHONE PERSONALITY by EMILY POST

We're often judged by the way we use telephone service. Good telephone technique and good telephone manners are important to a winning personality... and help you get the most from your telephone service.

A correspondent reminds me, "You often speak about not overworking information. Doesn't the telephone company provide information service for my convenience?"

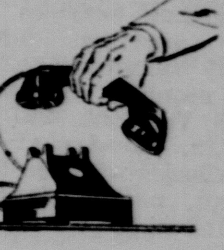

Yes—for your convenience and guidance when you can't find a number listed in the telephone directory—not as a substitute for trying to find it first. Strangely enough, it is not our older generation, but our young people who are mostly responsible for the fact that three out of four calls to Information are for numbers listed correctly in the telephone directory.

Here is a question frequently asked, "If I am entertaining a visitor and my telephone rings, what is the proper thing to do? Should my attention be given to the call—or the visitor?"

Your visitor has first claim on your time and attention. It is proper to excuse yourself, answer the telephone, and, unless the call presents an immediate emergency, ask the caller's permission to return the call later.

A party line user writes, "What should I do when I pick up my party-line telephone to make a call and find it in use?"

Replace the receiver gently. Lifting and replacing the receiver signals those using the line that you want to make a call. Wait from three to five minutes before you try again. This gives your party-line neighbor time to end his conversation without rushing—and opens the line for your use.

Allied World Has New Hero in Rok GI

SEOUL, Korea (AP)—The Allied world has a new battlefield hero today, Private Kim, a first class fighting man.

Kim is known to his U.N. commander as a "ROK," and he is the GI Joe of the Republic of Korea, where the name Kim is even more common than Smith in America.

For more than two years Pvt. Kim has been too lightly regarded, often distrusted as a rabbit uniform who would throw down his gun and run if the going got rough.

That never was a fair picture of the average South Korean soldier, but there were few to point out the facts about him.

But Pvt. Kim is now telling his own story in the best way he can—with bayonet and hand grenade. Whatever he was two years ago, the terrible fighting on White Horse Mountain has shown that Kim has graduated into one of the world's best infantrymen.

That peak is a key terrain feature dominating the road to Seoul, only 50 miles away. He is said to be the only man in the world to have killed a North Korean soldier on an Englishman or Paris to the French.

In five days and nights of continuous battle fought in mud and cold rain the vital peak changed hands 20 times. Every time the outnumbering hordes of the Reds pushed Kim off the top ridge he stubbornly clawed a bloody path back.

Kim did it on his own while the peoples of the Western World, who have often asked, "Why don't the South Koreans do more to defend their own country?" watched in growing wonder.

These people of the West probably still fail to realize the real significance of the battle for White Horse Mountain. Whether it is finally won or lost it is a kind of Alamo to the new Republic of Korea.

Psychologically, Pvt. Kim for centuries has felt inferior to Pvt. Chang of China. He has always been "the little brother" in an oriental sense, but now he is "the big brother," Pvt. Chang.

But Pvt. Kim now has proved to himself and a doubtful world on White Horse peak that man for man equal to or better than Pvt. Chang—that David can take on Goliath. And Pvt. Kim won't forget it.

The truth is, of course, that Pvt. Kim, whenever he has been properly trained, well officered and given enough weapons, has been a good soldier all along. He is as stubborn as two Irishmen and as mule, he can walk a Chinese boggedown, and pad along for hours totting a burden that would flatten a Jap.

The trouble with the ROKS was that their 100,000-man force at the outbreak of the war was pawed and mangled by the spearhead of a North Korean army that attacked with 300,000 men and 300 Russian tanks.

South Korea reacted with a magnificence that has received small recognition. Farm boys were taken out of their rice paddies and thrown into the front lines eight days later. Some clutched strange rifles they had fired only once in their brief training because of the scarcity of bullets. Others marched into battle empty-handed and were told to pick up a weapon from the first man to fall.

Often they had to forage off the countryside. There often was no morphine for the badly wounded. Commanders held them as a surgeon operated.

It is a combat miracle the ROKS were able to hold on their front as well as they did for the first months of emergency. Yet all the time they had more men in action than any other member of the U.N., including the U.S.

At the same time, guided by American officers, they forged and trained an army of several hundred thousand men equipped with American arms.

The key man in that reborn army is Pvt. Kim, now able to fight with the best. His morale is high. He can dogfight and shuffle 35 miles in a day on his thin rubber shoes, and he sings as he marches.

The songs are about two of the oldest dreams in his "Land of the Morning Calm"—a victory, and a boy called Kim at peace in a beautiful field of waving rice, golden in harvest.

Parents Warned Not to Let Underage Youths Be Drivers

A warning to parents who permit their children who are less than 16 years of age to operate motor vehicles was issued Monday morning by Harold Hamburg, prosecuting attorney, as he prepared to deal with two cases involving juvenile traffic violators.

So many cases of this sort have been brought in lately, he said, that it is time for the law enforcement agencies to crack down on the violators and their parents.

Sgt. W. S. Barton, State Highway Patrol, explained the statute pertaining to juvenile vehicle operators.

"In order for anyone to operate any motor-propelled vehicle on any public thoroughfare in or out of the city limits, he must be at least 16 years old and must have an operator's or chauffeur's license," he said.

"If the driver is less than 21 years old," he continued, "he must have with him a license issued in the name of someone who is 21 years old. In most cases that person would be one of the child's parents. And the parent will be held responsible for any regulations violated by the child."

"In addition," he said, "parents who permit children under 16 years of age to operate motor vehicles are in violation of the statutes and are responsible for the children's misdemeanors and carry a possible sentence of from $5 to $500 fine or a year in jail or both."

He said that several youngsters are operating vehicles while under age or without an operator's or chauffeur's license in this vicinity, particularly in Sedalia, and that enforcement agencies will have to take both children and parents to court.

"When we way motor-propelled vehicles," he emphasized, "we include such vehicles as motor scooters, motor bikes, motorcycles, and, of course, cars and trucks."

"The authority is Dr. Werner von Braun, technical director of the U. S. guided missiles development group at Huntsville, Ala."

From this satellite, he said, we could take off in rockets to the moon or elsewhere in space.

He added: "The telescopes on the satellite could take pictures of any part of the earth 'and pull up any iron curtain' through ability to see another nation's secrets. Guided missiles could be launched from the space satellite to hit any spot on earth."

The space satellite could be a great deterrent to war, he said. He suggested studies starting now to create rockets to carry materials into space and build this space platform.

Rosen declared that almost nothing would "do more harm to this country's defense effort and to the cause of space flight itself than for the United States to undertake any one of the fantastic projects for a space ship that has been proposed in the last few years."

The space ship project would take too many scientists and materials and money from other defense projects, he said. We just don't have the basic knowledge to go ahead right now and build such a ship, he declared.

"We must not allow ourselves to be frightened into attempting the space flight prematurely," he said.

Beatrice Bealer, 314 East Third, was fined $75 and given 30 days in jail on a charge of intoxicated driving. Judge Weinrich granted a stay on the sentence on good behavior.

Magistrate Court

Glen Proffitt pleaded guilty Saturday afternoon in Magistrate Court to a charge of careless and imprudent driving and was fined $25 and costs.

Circuit Court

A suit for divorce was filed by Rose Rule against Orville Rule, 217 East Second, on grounds of mental and physical cruelty. The Rules were married Apr. 10, 1943, and separated Oct. 10, 1952.

A suit for payment of costs for a tonsillectomy at Bothwell Hospital last June was filed by Lorena Sprinkles against the Guarantee Life Insurance Co., Inc., of Chicago, Ill. The plaintiff also asks judgment of 10 percent of the costs for the company's refusal to pay a doctor's fees, and court costs. Royal M. and George Miller are attorneys for the plaintiff.

Russians Say US Bomber Shot At Red Planes Over Russia

MOSCOW (AP)—Russia has charged that a U. S. B29 bomber shot at Soviet fighter planes over Russian Far Eastern territory Tuesday and said the Red pilots returned the fire. The incident occurred the same day the U. S. Superfortress violated the Soviet States, formally protesting the alleged border violation, said the American plane "disappeared in the direction of the sea" after the Russians shot back. The text of the note was published by the Communist party newspaper Pravda and was broadcast by Moscow radio.

In Tokyo, a U. S. Air Force spokesman said the missing American plane "carried no guns and no gunners" among its crew of eight. The Air Force previously had announced the bomber, flying a training trip, was last seen on a radar screen within Japanese waters. It disappeared from the screen when its path crossed that of an unidentified plane approaching the Russian-occupied Kurile Islands, officers said.

The Soviet note charged that the U. S. bomber "violated the Soviet state frontier" Oct. 7 in the "area of the island of Yuri." It is one of the Kurile Islands, 18 miles from the northernmost Japanese island of Hokkaido.

The American craft fired on two Soviet fighter planes that ordered it to land, the note continued, and when the Soviet fighters returned the fire, the American plane disappeared in the direction of the sea."

Deputy Foreign Minister Georgi Pushkin handed the note to Elim O'Shaughnessy, acting U. S. charge d'affaires, on Sunday.

The Soviet government lodges a determined protest against this act of violation of the Soviet state frontier by an American military aircraft and demands that the government of the U. S. A. adopt measures to prevent violation of the Soviet state frontier by the American aircraft.

The new controversy is the latest in a series of incidents involving both Europe and the Far East. It comes at a time when American-Soviet relations—as a result of the Kennan—are at the lowest point in the 20 years the two nations have recognized each other.

The previous aircraft incidents caused heated diplomatic exchanges between the two countries. Kennan also protested July 27 picturing a series of the incidents and showing American planes going down under Soviet fire. The ambassador refused to attend the annual Air Day show because of the posters.

U. S. Air Force officers in Japan said their last contact with the plane that disappeared Tuesday was a distress call. A crewman was heard to shout, "Let's get the hell out of here," just before the bomber vanished from the radar screen.

At that time, they said, the plane was in Japanese waters flying over the narrow strait between Hokkaido and the Kuriles. Search planes later found an oil slick in the area where the plane disappeared.

US Delegates To UN Shape Work Program

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—Secretary of State Dean Acheson and the U. S. delegates to the U. N. Assembly shape up their work program to meet expected Russian opposition on Korea and other Assembly items in their first organization meeting today.

Acheson, his five fellow U. S. delegates and their four alternates were to gather at the U. S. mission headquarters in Park Avenue this afternoon about the same time Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Vishinsky and high ranking Russian helpers were due to land from the Queen Elizabeth.

The U. N. seventh Assembly opens here at 11 a. m. tomorrow in the modern new domed Assembly Building adjoining the U. N. Secretariat building.

Two top delegates in the U. S. group this year are Sens. Theodore Francis Wiley (D-R) and Alexander Wiley (R-Wis.). They are the senior members of their parties on the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, appointed under the Truman bipartisan policy in U. N. matters.

Wiley threw a political bombshell into the U. N. picture Saturday night. He announced in Washington that he had called on Acheson and the State Department a week ago to push a purge of U. S. Communists he said were employed by the U. N. Secretariat.

His charges that American Communists were on the U. N. payroll came just before the McCarran Senate Internal Security committee hearings were scheduled to open here hunting for such persons.

U. N. Secretary-General Trygve Lie, in an answer to Wiley Saturday night, said he had already fired a "very few" Americans on clear-cut information and in the future, but would not dismiss anyone on mere suspicion.

He also revealed that a New York grand jury had called a number of American U. N. personnel and said he had asked the U. S. government to tell him of any of his employees refusing to answer questions about their activities outside the U. N. Lie added the U. S. government hadn't answered him yet.

The secretary-general distributed a circular to the Americans on his staff today, warning them they must co-operate with the McCarran committee if they are called, and cannot plead U. N. immunity on any questions covering their private activities now or before they were employed by the U. N.

At the same time, he told them that they must not answer any questions referring to the official activities or confidential information of the U. N. itself.

Warren R. Austin, former Republican senator from Vermont, and Ernest Cross, his deputy as permanent delegate and also a Republican, and other members of the delegation, along with Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt and Ambassador Philip C. Jessup.

Smith-Cotton Tiger track team journeyed to Springfield the past weekend where it competed with the Missouri high school champions in a cross-country meet.

The Springfield team took the first six places in the meet with the Tigers winning seventh, eighth, 12th, 13th and 14th.

Springfield in 1951 was the state champion in cross-country and the number one man last year placed first in the nation on points. The number two man, Joe Underwood, who was a junior last year, placed first in the meet with the Tigers.

The meet is a 1.9 mile run. Gerald Lohnes was seventh and led the Tigers; Bob Smith, eighth; Glenn Stokstill, 12th; Pat Brown, 13th and John Stark, 14th. Jim Ellis, who started, ran a mile and became ill, and had to drop out of the contest.

The two cross-country teams are to meet in Sedalia at 3:30 p. m. Wednesday. The racing event will be held either at Liberty Park or on the mile track at the Missouri State Fair grounds, if arrangements can be made for the latter location.

Burglar Takes $2,000 From Columbia Cafe

COLUMBIA (AP)—An early morning burglar took more than $2,000 in cash receipts from a busy foot-ball weekend at a cafe just off the campus of the University of Missouri here yesterday.

An employee of Gaetler's Black and Gold inn, which is across the street from the university's administration building, found the safe open and the money missing when he reported for work. The money had been locked in a safe at the cafe closed at 1 a. m. Sunday.

Police said the burglar apparently forced a rear window to enter the building. The safe was undamaged.

Sooners Meet Toughest Big 7 Challenge

KANSAS CITY (AP)—The University of Oklahoma's Big Seven football empire, solid as the Rock of Gibraltar since October, 1947, is scheduled to get its toughest league challenge this week.

Coach Bud Wilkinson's Sooners will meet Kansas, their last co-champion for the title, before a sellout crowd of about 40,000 at Lawrence, Saturday. So intense is the interest—and ticket demand—that the N. C. A. A. has granted permission for area television to Kansas City's WDAF-TV station.

Both Kansas and Oklahoma paved the path for the tilt with impressive victories last Saturday. Oklahoma mauled Texas 49-20, in the Cotton Bowl at Dallas before 7,500, striking for four touchdowns in the first quarter.

The Kansas Jayhawks warmed up 43-0 at the expense of Iowa State at Ames, and for the second straight week.

Kansas will go into the fray with two league victories and a perfect season record of 4-0. Oklahoma opened with a 21-21 tie at Colorado in its first conference start. Oklahoma's last loss was to Kansas at Lawrence, 13-16, in the Cotton Bowl at Dallas before 7,500, striking for four touchdowns in the first quarter.

One other conference game is scheduled this week, Colorado at Iowa State, Colorado handled Arizona, 34-19, at Tucson Saturday night.

Missouri, high-strung in close losses to mighty Maryland and California and in a win over Kansas State, wasn't sharp enough and got whipped 25-7 by Southern Methodist last week. The Tigers hope to improve their record at the expense of Oklahoma A. & M. at Stillwater Saturday.

The Nebraska Cornhuskers, undefeated in four games and tied with Kansas for the conference lead, will meet Penn State away from home Saturday. The Cornhuskers' championship hopes were struck a blow when Bobby Reynolds, the 1950 All America half-back, suffered a shoulder separation in their 27-14 victory over Kansas State.

Coach Bill Glassford said last night that Reynolds is lost for the season. That means Reynolds, who missed most of last season because of a bum shoulder, is through with college football.

Kansas State has a rugged non-league engagement with Tulsa at Tulsa Saturday night. Quarterback Carl Albacker completed 17 of 32 passes for 169 yards and a new Kansas State passing record. Two of them were caught by end Jack McShulski for the touchdowns against Nebraska.

Big Seven Bits: — Missouri dropped its chance of beating SMU early in the first quarter when the Tigers failed to score after intercepting a pass and driving to the Texans' 19 yard line. SMU scored on its first opportunity and kept ahead. Tony Scardino's passing—he completed 11 of 25 for 196 yards—was the Tigers' lone bright spot.

Buddy Leake, who tied Kansas' Bud Laughter for Big Seven scoring honors with 78 points as a sophomore last year, is undisputed leader this week with 46 points. In second place is Kansas' Charlie Hoag with 36 points. Reynolds, the leader last week, got a conversion against Kansas State for 31 points. Hoag, who scored three touchdowns against Colorado, pulled the same stunt against Iowa State. Maybe the Oak Park, Ill., senior is up to the All America capabilities predicted for him as a sophomore in 1950.

Princeton Drops Its Reign As Longest Winning Squad

NEW YORK (AP)—With the unceremonious demise of Princeton, the mighty Spartans from Michigan State today owned the longest winning streak in college football—18 games—and they show no signs of letting up there.

Maryland and Georgia Tech each have gone through 18 games without a defeat, but they've been tied.

Michigan State still has six games to play so it's rather early to be predicting another undefeated season for them, but if they perform in the manner they did Saturday in hanging a 48-6 pasting on Texas A. & M. their future opponents are not going to look to the Spartan games with any enthusiasm.

Tarkio Quitting MCAU Football Competition

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Tarkio College announced today it had decided to withdraw from championship football competition in the Missouri College Athletic Union.

Coach Hal Yinger said the decision was reached due to the fact we don't have the manpower to compete with other members of the conference.

Tarkio, which lost its first two conference games 0-7 to Culver-Stockton Sept. 26 and 6-13 to Central Oct. 4, forfeited to powerful William Jewell last week. Tarkio will play Missouri Valley Oct. 31, but instead will play Valley's "B" team on that date.

A scheduled game with Central Nebraska Oct. 22 will not be played since that school is not fielding a team this year.

Meantime, William Jewell is setting the pace with two conference victories and a season record of 6-0, counting the forfeit. The Cardinals took on Olathe Navy in the Tarkio date for a 49-14 victory. Jewell will meet Warrensburg at Warrensburg Saturday.

In the only conference game this week, Culver-Stockton will play Central at Fayetteville Saturday. Culver-Stockton was beaten, 7-33, by Carthage, Ill., college last Saturday.

Missouri Valley has a non-conference home date with Olathe Saturday.

THE SEDALIA DEMOCRAT—Sedalia, Mo., Mon., Oct. 13, 1952

Mich. State Depth Beats All Opponents

EAST LANSING, MICH. (AP)—First came the smashing seniors of Michigan State's bulldozing football team. Then their jolting juniors. Now it's their startling sophomores.

Where does the parade of brilliant ball-carriers that lifted Michigan State to a record winning streak stop?

Naturally, Coach Biggie Munn hopes it never does.

Naturally, the coaches of State's remaining foes—Syracuse, Penn State, Purdue, Indiana, Notre Dame and Marquette—hope it stops pronto.

After Coach Ray George of Texas A. & M. saw his lads whipped by Michigan State 48-6 Saturday in a nationally televised game, he put it this way: "It's not their first team that beats you. It's their second and third."

Biggie, who admits he likes to play a lot of fellows, has coached his team to 18 straight victories—longest current major college streak—and to a No. 2 ranking in the weekly Associated Press poll. Wisconsin, No. 1 last week, was upset Saturday by Ohio State.

Last year Biggie used two backfields: 1 the workhorse unit that played the other team even for two periods and wore it down, and 2 the pony backfield that came in at that point and ran up a comfortable lead.

This year he uses almost all 12 backs interchangeably in the three units. There's no real first string. Only quarterback Tom Yewcic can be called a full-time regular.

In this year's first two games Munn used only eight of his backs. They managed 27-13 and 17-14 victories over Michigan and Oregon State.

Then came the unveiling of the other four backs in the fourth quarter last Saturday and their brilliance should aid Munn if he has any psychological problems with his top eight backs.

CHICAGO (AP)—With a recent Notre Dame blast at collegiate television policies still revolving, two committees of the NCAA met today to work over TV and other plans for the future.

A four-day general policy going over was in prospect. Besides the television problem, the committees planned to take up such things as post-season competition and alleged nonobservance of NCAA rules by at least three of its members.

Names of the schools involved in the reported infractions have not been made public.

The committees on hand are the NCAA Executive Committee and the NCAA Council. The overall purpose of the meetings is to shape various reports for final action by the NCAA Convention in January.

Notre Dame spokesmen say they have learned a "share the wealth" program is being prepared by NCAA bodies. They say the plan would split money received in the association's controlled video program among all members.

Edward (Moose) Krause, Irish athletic director, condemned over the week end any such move as "immoral, illegal, un-American and socialist." He asked why, "on the same basis, shouldn't endowments and state legislative funds for colleges be split among all the schools?"

"Some schools have both material wealth and prestige," Krause maintained. "We at Notre Dame have only prestige and that belongs as much to us as does material wealth to other schools."

Walter Byers, executive director of the NCAA, has not yet commented on the Notre Dame stand.

Asa Bushnell, director of the organization's television program, said "share the wealth" plan has been presented by the TV Committee. However, he said a partial distribution of excess (TV) receipts has been mentioned as a future possibility.

Monday's Grid Wash, With All Towels Loosed

NEW YORK (AP)—Monday's football wash, and not a crying towel in the batch (they were all lent to Frank Leahy, Charley Caldwell and Ivy Williamson).

Any six-year-old television fan should have known Ohio State was going to upset top-ranked Wisconsin. After all, Ohio State had Hopalong Cassidy, Hoppy, a red-haired freshman who also answers to the name of Howard, ran for 113 yards and passed for 51 in the Buckeyes' 23-14 win over the nation's No. 1 ranked eleven.

You have to credit a goat with an assist but Navy won its third straight game of the season by beating William & Mary, 14-0. The three victories tie the best the Midshipmen have done in a single season since 1945. They were having their anxious moments, though, until their goat mascot, kidnapped last Thursday by Maryland students, made a surprise appearance on the field. Navy quickly scored the two winning touchdowns. The goat mascot, kidnapped last Thursday by Maryland students, made a surprise appearance on the field. Navy quickly scored the two winning touchdowns. It's beginning to look as if the 1952 Army-Navy game will return to its old-time stature. Army's legends are rolling again, wiping out memories of last year's embarrassing defeat. Pete Vann led the Black Knights to a 37-7 rout of Dartmouth.

Quote, unquote: Woody Hayes, Ohio State coach after upset win over Wisconsin: "The boys made a great strategist out of me, didn't they?"

The week end's passing honors should go to Illinois' Tom O'Connor, who connected for five touchdowns in the space of 20 minutes in whomping Washington, 48-14.

Frank Meriwell couldn't have provided a more thrilling finish than Yale's 35-28 victory over

Kirkville Holds Top Spot Today In MIAA Race

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Coach Maurice (Red) Wade's Kirkville Bulldogs today were well established as a standout contender for the M.I.A.A. football title.

The Bulldogs, undefeated in four starts and 2-0 in the conference, currently are tied with Rolla Miners for the league lead.

Rolla, which annually starts play to get reorganized in the weekly against non-conference teams and then gets tough when play-for-keep starts, will take over the leadership with a victory.

Kirkville, which beat Cape Girardeau 18-0 last week, has a date with the Missouri "B" team at home Saturday afternoon.

Springfield, which tied Kirkville for the championship in 1951, also play to get reorganized in the weekly against non-conference teams and then gets tough when play-for-keep starts, will take over the leadership with a victory.

Warrensburg, still seeking its first victory of the season, will have a tough time getting it against William Jewell at Warrensburg Saturday.

Football With Handle Keeps Mathias' Hands On Ball for Saturday

PALO ALTO, Calif. (AP)—Know why Bob Mathias, who seemed well on the way to a fumbling record, didn't boot the ball once Saturday?

Stanford's defensive team—which has done a lot of extra work this fall because Bob fumbled the ball into opponents' hands—gave Mathias a football with a handle. No kidding.

Two weeks ago Mathias' fumbles set up two Oregon touchdowns. A week ago, Bob fumbled five times.

So Friday on the eve of the Oregon State game, Stanford's defensive captain, Al Kirkland, handed offensive captain Jim Vick a package.

Inside: a football with a handle. Vick quick on the uptake, handed the ball—handle first of course—to Mathias. Bob grinned.

"Thanks, I promise I won't fumble"—and didn't.

How Pasture Pays Off for Profit Shows In Sudan. Barley Fields of Shepherd

With Dry Weather, Early Frost, Still He Has Pastures

Dairymen, in particular, need to provide plenty of pasture for a profit in their business. Short pastures, unless supplemented with machinery harvested roughage or grain, results in the reduction of milk production per cow. It is well known that once the milk production drops it is difficult, if not impossible, to get production up to the former level during the current lactation period.

The shortage of pasture, as observed by some farm visits last week, shows the importance of dairymen using two specific crops not grown by all.

Ray Shepherd and father living in the southeastern edge of the county have a field of August seeded barley one-half mile from the public road that shows up like an oasis in a desert. The dairy cattle, so I learned, were turned on this pasture recently when the freeze made pasturing of a field of sudan a dangerous practice. The sudan had been pastured during the period when lespezea was pastured and more recently when the lignin in lespezea reduces milk flow.

It is not luck that the Shepherds had this sudan for pasture for this period. Neither is it luck that, when the freeze made pasturing the sudan dangerous, that they had the sizeable acreage of winter barley for pasture. They are not stopping with these pasture crops as they had seeded a field to rescue and ladino. True this field will not green due to the dry weather. Yet, you may be sure they are going to keep on until they get this field into a high productive pasture.

Even when they get this pasture established they will need to provide some sudan for protection as well as some lespezea following a small grain crop.

Another word about the barley field. Even should the good stand of barley be thinned out or almost totally ruined—the barley will have paid for the cost of preparing the seed bed and seeding. Furthermore, it is well known by many that barley is the best small grain crop to use where clovers seeded in late winter or early spring. The strong point of barley for a companion crop is that the crop shades the legume crops less than oats or wheat—being a less leafy and shorter straw and oils removed earlier. While its less common than is desired—yet some farmers seem to know the trick of growing a 30 to 40 bushel or even more. This is true frequently where the following characteristics of barley are recognized; barley needs a well drained soil, with the lime requirement satisfactory, well packed bed, plenty of phosphate and potash supplied, seed treated, and neither too close grazing practiced nor an excessive amount of top growth when winter sets in.

Speaking of barley showing up like an oasis in a desert—Steven McClure has a sight for sore eyes. He has a field of B-400 barley that is 6 inches tall, stands thick in the row, about 12 plants to the running foot in drill rows. He and the Shepherds have been making definite improvements in their farm program. Both have been members of the Balanced Farming Association.

Stevens believes so much in the association work that he takes time to talk to his neighbors about its advantages.—R. I. C.

Water Main Bursts, Floods Yard, Home

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—It was just a quiet Sunday at the V. L. Smith home until a water main burst.

Then a 250,000-gallon flood inundated the yard and poured six inches deep through the house for an hour and a half yesterday. Neighbors helped the Smiths build a plank and dirt dam to divert some of the flow until waterworks employees cut it off.

"I think I dipped up 250,000 gallons of water in the living room alone," Mrs. Smith said when told of a waterworks official's estimate. "The water in the rest of the house we got out with mops and brooms. Or at least we're getting it out. We'll still be trying to clean the mud off sometime next week."

Durleys Get Non-Freeze Hog Waterer to Save Labor

By Merle Vaughan

Another of the non-freeze concrete hog waterers was poured at L. E. Durley's of Hughesville last week. This one will provide water for 120 head of hogs. This waterer is a windmill nearly 200 feet away. It is located so whenever the stock tank contains any water the hog waterer will stand full ready for use.

It was estimated that a similar waterer serving 50 hogs at Charles Romigs would pay for itself in 10 weeks. This one took more pipe but watering more than twice as many hogs (120) it ought to pay for itself in three months time. When we talk about some appliance paying for itself we are thinking of the time saved, being applied on other productive effort. At Durley's they can work longer hours in the fields by not having to carry water to the hogs.

The 10 acre clover field in which the waterer is located yielded 6 tons of hay besides pasturing 9 sows and 63 shoats this summer. Now there are 120 hogs out there grazing this clover as they grow down 45 acres of corn. Mr. Durley says he has kept a little 40 percent protein supplement available for his hogs besides the pasture but in his own words, "they weren't very crazy over it."

The Durleys have another 10 acre field about 100 yards from the waterer. As soon as it is seeded to clover they plan to fence a lane so that field can be serviced by the same waterer.

Contractor Builds Structure At Arnests

Nearly every trade has a certain "jargon" and "foreigners" to that trade sometimes wonder what is under discussion. In tracing and other water management work a structure is something made of concrete slab or a metal tubing or both and which serves to let water down from a terrace outlet to a natural water course.

Arnold Fischer, local terracing contractor, built a "drop inlet" type structure on the Chas. Arnests farm in Heath Creek township recently. Four terrace outlets were built on the farm at the same time.

This type of structure resembles a 3 sided box with a floor and is built on the end of a bridge. The top of the box is at least 2 feet below the top of the road grade. The terrace outlet is built down to the level of the top of the box and usually the whole ditch above the structure can be filled up. Such a structure also strengthens the bridge as it stops cutback in the road ditches going each way from the bridge.

Two of the tube type structures were also put in recently by Mr. Fischer. One was at L. E. Durleys and the other at James A. (Jim) Agricultural Engineer in County.

One of the services of the Balanced Farming Association is the ready availability of trained specialists to help with problems.

O.H. Smith Has 60-Acre Corn Crop This Year

A sixty bushel corn crop in 1952 — a very unfavorable year — was harvested by O. H. Smith of Green Ridge. On a visit to his farm Friday he told us of his experience.

His soil test showed as follows: 2.5 per cent O. M. with a phosphate level of 13 and a potash test of 84 lbs. Assuming plenty of phosphate and potash added this soil with an organic matter content of 2.5 could be expected to yield about 42.5 bushels of corn with no nitrogen added. The rule is about 17 bushels for each per cent organic matter (2.5 times 17 gives 42.5). He plowed under 500 pounds of 12-12-12 and used 80 pounds of 8-24-8 as a starter. Hence he added a total of 66 pounds of nitrogen. To increase the yield of corn one bushel above its potential based on organic matter content we figure it requires 2 to 2 1/2 lbs. of nitrogen. Hence this 66 lbs. nitrogen he added as a rule could be counted on to push the yield up to 69 bushels.

He applied about 80 lbs. P205. A good rule to determine the minimum amount of P205 is to subtract the phosphate test from 200 and divide the results by two and apply that amount of P205. This rule would call for adding 96 lbs. P205. His application was 16 lbs. short of the minimum recommendation.

The potash rule for corn is 200 less test divided by two. In this case at 84 lb. level, one half of the deficiency would be 56 lbs. He applied 60 lbs.

While Mr. Smith made what many consider a liberal application of fertilizer yet it fell short on nitrogen and P205. With a favorable season he perhaps would have attained his goal of 80 bushels. Even with the unfavorable season he harvested a very satisfactory crop. Notice that his application of 80 lbs. P205 is in excess of the grain removal of 24 (80x24). Hence he can figure on about 56 more pounds P205 in the soil for future use. He gets a gain of about 65 lbs. per K2O as he added 80 lbs. and removed only about 15 lbs. — since only the grain was taken off (stalks left). This means on an inventory basis there was an increase of about 121 lbs. of plant food per acre.

The cost of this amount of plant food as a commercial fertilizer is about $10.00. Hence the $10.00 bill per acre could be deducted from the cost of the 500 lbs. of 12-12-12 and the 80 lbs. of 8-24-8. Little of these two minerals is removed when erosion is controlled.—By R. I. C.

The eruption of Mt. Fuji, sacred mountain in 1708, left a small crater in the near-perfect cone which is never depicted in Japanese representations of the mountain.

Farm Bureau Essay Contest In Pettis Co.

A registered Hampshire bred ewe has been announced as the prize offered in the new Farm Bureau essay contest. The contest for essays entitled "Why Every Farm Family in Pettis County Should Belong to the Farm Bureau" is sponsored jointly by the Pettis County Farm Bureau and Mrs. C. S. Arnold.

This bred ewe is being donated by Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Arnold of LaMonte. The Arnolds are known for the typical, registered Hampshire sheep that they produce. This ewe will be of a very desirable type and conformation and bred to a typical registered Hampshire ram.

"There is little doubt that this ewe would make a fine foundation for a 4-H ewe and lamb project," claims Jim Perry. The contest for which this ewe is a prize will be governed by the following regulations: (1) The prize will be awarded to the best essay on "Why Every Farm Family in Pettis County Should Belong to the Farm Bureau"; the essay not to exceed 500 words. (2) The contest is open to every Pettis County 4-H member. (3) All entries must be filed in the Pettis County Farm Bureau office, 118 1/2 West Third, Sedalia, not later than Nov. 29. (4) Presentation of the registration certificate of the ewe will be made to the contest winner at the annual meeting of the Pettis County Farm Bureau on Dec. 6. (5) Rules and regulations governing this contest will be made and established by the judges. (6) Decision of the judges will be final. (7) All entries will become the property of the Pettis County Farm Bureau.

Serving as contest judges will be Olen Monsees, state director of Missouri Farm Bureau; Mrs. P. S. Read, chairman of the Pettis County Farm Bureau.

Conservation Means More Food In Pettis

The soil and water conservation practices which Pettis County farmers are carrying out under the Agricultural Conservation Program mean more and better food for the consumer, says James A. Harvey, chairman of the county PMA committee.

He points out that the conservation practices which farmers have carried out in the past 15 years have helped to make possible the improved diets enjoyed today. The improved pastures have furnished food for increased numbers of livestock, thus in effect adding to the supply of meat and milk and other livestock products. The practices which have checked erosion and held back moisture on the cropland have meant increased yields of grain and other field crops.

The chairman noted that while the amount of cropland per person has been decreasing, the amount of food per person has been increasing. And, he added, this emphasized the necessity of protecting and improving the land we have if we are to continue producing the food needed by an increasing population.

The terraces that have been constructed, the pastures that have been improved, the dams that have been built, along with other conservation practices, are helping meet production needs today and to keep the land in condition to meet even greater needs in the future.

As a result of increased efficiency Rural Youth Committee and Mrs. Granville Thompson, secretary of the Pettis County Farm Bureau.

"Was a nervous wreck from agonizing pain until I found Pazo!"

says Mrs. A. W. San Antonio, Texas. Speed amazing relief from misery of piles, hemorrhoids, itching, burning, soreness, dry, hardened parts. Helps prevent cracking, reduce swelling. Don't suffer from tortuous simple piles. Get Pazo for conferring relief. Ask your doctor about it. Suppository form or tubes with perforated pipe. Pazo Ointment and Suppositories

Girl Scout News—

Troops Compete to Be First Registered and Organized

Two Girl Scout troops are running a race to see which can be registered and completely organized first. One seems to have the more registration money in, but the other has a troop committee organized.

Troop 7 at Whittier school is divided into teams and started out to see which team could get the most girls registered first. The winners are to entertain the losers. Sara Wells and Marjorie McKinney are the captains.

Troop 7 Elects
They also elected their officers for the year: president, DeAnna Blaylock; treasurer, April Burton; secretary, Alice Roberts; Marjorie McKinney and JoAnn Patrick are representatives on the planning board. The scrap book will be kept by Iris Cannon, Patty Huffman and Peggy Neidholt. Mrs. John Bowman and Mrs. Sterling Wheeler are the leaders.

Brownie Troop Organized
Brownie Troop 69 with Mrs. Lindsay Hayden and Mrs. Paul Sparks as leaders, is organized

Sunday evening in the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Boheing and daughter Sandra.

Mary Sue and brother, Edwin Lee James, spent Friday and Saturday with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Lee James, in Leeton.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Borchers and son Paul visited in Sedalia, with Mr. and Mrs. Richard Borchers and daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. Marcus Kueck of Sedalia and Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Balke and daughter of near Cole Camp, were dinner guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Viebrock and son of Clinton.

Miss Mary Hieronymus spent Saturday in Sedalia with her mother, Mrs. Kemp Hieronymus.

Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Hagenah and daughter of Kansas City, spent the week-end with Cole Camp relatives. Their daughter, Suzanne, remained for a longer visit.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ficke and children of Kansas City spent the week-end with her mother, Mrs. Theresa Postel.

Social Security Card a Valuable Possession in U.S.

(This is one of a series of articles on Old-Age and Survivors Insurance under the Social Security Act. These articles were prepared by the Social Security office at Sedalia. Those interested may get more information from that office by visiting there, writing, or telephoning.)

Your social security card is one of your most valuable possessions. It is the key to your social security account on which payments made under old-age and survivors insurance will be based.

You should be certain that you get a social security number as soon as you go to work on a job that is covered by social security. If you are self-employed, in most any trade or business, you will also need a social security number.

If you work for someone else, make sure that he copies your name and number for his records exactly as it appears on your social security card. He uses this information on the reports he makes every three months of the wages he has paid. The benefits paid on your account are based on these reports.

If you are self-employed, you need the number for the report you make to the director of internal revenue of your income from self-employment that is subject to social security taxes. This report is to be filed with your Federal income tax return once a year covering your income in the last taxable year.

You should have only one social security number all your life. If you change your name, you should get another card with the same number, but showing your name. If you lose your card, ask your social security office for a duplicate card.

Guard your card—put it in a safe place. Let your family know where your card is. You will need your card when you apply for your benefits when you write. Your family will need the card to file for survivor's benefits in case of your death.

A simulated disaster emergency in which radio amateurs cooperated with Red Cross disaster officials in a plan of close coordination, highlighted weekend tests conducted by the American Radio Relay League and Red Cross Telecomm and which was attended by J. E. Norlin, co-chairman of disaster for the Pettis County chapter of the Red Cross.

Following the tests, the regular monthly meeting of the Amateur Radio Operators of Central Missouri, with Herbert Young, president, presiding, was held at Red Cross headquarters.

For the emergency tests, an annual event, three amateur radio months, with the accent on gift D. C. Chicago, Ill.; and San Francisco, Calif.

Jr. Red Cross Month
Four other Red Cross projects have been announced as part of the fall program.

November is Junior Red Cross month, with the accent of gift boxes to be filled and sent all over the world. Supplies are already being sent out to Sedalia schools and enrollment efforts are under way.

Letters from worldwide recipients of the gift boxes have been received by the local chapter and are being translated by Mrs. Michael Wolfel. They will be sent to the schools.

The nurse's aides will be on duty at the immunization clinic at the courthouse Oct. 16. The following members will serve: Mrs. K. H. Eisert, Mrs. Fred Lange, Mrs. W. T. Mateja, Mrs. Neal Reyburn, Mrs. A. A. Studebaker, Mrs. A. J. Schupp and Mrs. Dick Van Dyne. Mrs. Herbert Zoernig is chairman of nurse's aides.

Gray Ladies To Work
Members of Gray Ladies will also work at the clinic, according to Mrs. A. A. Ferguson. They are: Mrs. William Faulkner, Mrs. Earl Gold and Mrs. Joe Menefee.

The fall schedule for Red Cross first aid is now being arranged by Michael Wolfel chairman. Individuals and groups are urged to contact the local office so that classes may begin immediately.

The bloodmobile will be set up at the Armory Dec. 5 and 6, it was announced by Mrs. A. A. Studebaker, chairman of the blood program.

During the local chapter's last fiscal year, 1302 pints of blood were collected in Pettis County, most of it going to Korea. The Defense Department is asking for much more.

DOC BOB, YOUR DRY CLEANER SEZ:

"FASHION FUZZES OVER ANGORA"

No longer is angora confined to pure white. Along with pastel blues, pinks, yellows and beige, there will be strong reds and blues.

Angora accessories, or garments trimmed with angora must definitely be placed in the luxury class. They need special handling in drycleaning—in fact, they must be cleaned by hand to retain that soft feel. And do you know why?

Angora comes from the Angora rabbit. It is the longest and softest of the fur fibers. It is an expensive fiber. Because of the physical structure of the guard hair and the fur fiber, it will felt—that is, become harsh and hard—with the slightest mechanical action in cleaning. That is why it must be cleaned by hand. For this reason you may find that the cleaning charge is slightly higher than for a regular garment.

To get the best satisfaction from your angora garments or accessories, entrust them to your cleaner for cleaning.
